Loan Approval Granted To BG For New Dorm

The University has been notified of the final approval of a loan request for $2,500,000 from the United States Housing and Home Finance Agency for the construction of the men's residence center east of Fraternity Row. Dr. Ralph W. McDonald was informed of the approval by the office of U.S. Representative Delbert L. Latta, of Bowling Green, April 7.

Plans and specifications for the residence center, to house 700 men, are complete. Dr. McDonald stated, and the advertisement of bids for the construction began this week. The actual construction will begin in several weeks, and occupancy of the residence center is scheduled for September, 1960.

Bonds will be offered on the open market in compliance with HHFA regulations. However, that is expected to be a formality, because the bond market is much higher than the HHFA approved 2.78 per cent interest for 38 years, and the agency will buy the bonds.

The difference between the amount of interest paid on the bonds to the HHFA and that paid on bonds sold in the open market will mean considerable savings in room rents for students over the years, Dr. McDonald said.

Consisting of three buildings connected underground but not above ground, the center will be U-shaped, and will be divided into eight individual fraternity houses and one large interfraternity dormitory.

Four of the eight units will be located in one building at the east side of the U-shaped center, and the other four will be located in the building at the west side. The dormitory at the north end of the U will house 316 men, while each unit will house 48.

Ballots To Be Cast For Queen, Court In May 21 Election

The Student Elections Board has set May 21 as the day for the annual May Queen election.

The Queen and her four attendants will be announced and will reign at the University Anniversary Prom, May 23.

All sororities and women's residence halls may submit entries in the respective class level. A list of these candidates is due in the Student Boards Office, Studio B, Practical Arts Bldg., on or before April 29.

Two pictures of the candidates, one 5 x 7, and one glossy 4 x 5, are due in the same room no later than 4:30 p.m., May 6.

Campaigning begins May 18 with the campaign rules remaining the same as in previous elections.

6 Found Guilty In SC Meeting

Four students were found guilty of parking violations, Tuesday, in a short Court session. Two others were found guilty of violating Section 4.

Richard Speedie was fined $3 and his car was impounded for one week as he was found guilty of his second parking offense.

Roderic Johnson, Ray Lockwood, and Joel Stockstill were found guilty of first parking offenses and each fined $1.

William Patterson and Nathaniel Pugh Jr. were both found guilty of violating Section 4. Patterson, who had previously been fined $10 by the Mayor's Court, was given a delay before having to impound his car.

Pugh, also fined by the Mayor's Court, was given a sentence of attending three consecutive Court sessions instead of having his car impounded.

LT. COL. FRED SIEBERT, professor of air science, and Douglas Cotner, assistant director of the University Theatre's production of "Cyrano de Bergerac," have spent many hours fencing. Cotner is learning the finer points of the sport from the former college fencing team member, and then he instructs students who must fence in the play.

'Cyrano' Cast Is Going To School To Learn Art Of Sword-Wielding

By NIQUE POTHIER

"Cyrano de Bergerac," scheduled to be produced May 7-9, will feature "sword play" between guest star Joseph Ruskin and members of the cast. Ruskin will arrive Sunday and will start rehearsals immediately.

Lt. Col. Fred Siebert, professor of air science, has taken the job of fencing instructor to Cyrano's actors. He gives the assistant director, Douglas Cotner, lessons in the art of blade-wielding. Cotner in turn, trains the other actors.

The lessons are given in the men's Gym twice a week for more than two hours. Training is done with conventional button-tipped foils, although sabres will be used on stage.

"The sabre gives more of a showy appearance," Lt. Col. Siebert said, "although they will be using the style of foil fencing." A total of 18 actors will be on stage in one of the big scenes, and all will be brandishing swords.

Lt. Col. Siebert has been fencing for 35 years and was named national champion in 1940. He also placed on the United States Olympic Fencing team.

"I started fencing when I was quite young," he said, "following in the footsteps of my older brothers."

He became Chicago High School Champion in 1926. In 1930-31 he was on the University of Illinois Fencing Team, contributing to many Big Ten wins. He also served as varsity fencing coach. Lt. Col. Siebert said he then retired for a few years before vying for the national title.

"A good fencer must be in top physical condition," he said. "He must practice incessantly. It is one of the more technical sports and looks easier than it is to the untrained eye."

Several men have expressed the desire to start a campus fencing club, he said. Clubs and intramural teams as well as varsity teams have become quite popular on smaller campuses.

first play with Gary Schommer acting as technical director. The cast includes Judi Brock, Joe Cistone, Wayne Ward, Chuck Lee, and Jac Carrick. The crew is composed of Gene Bowman and Gerald Levy.

Director of "The Command Performance" is San Merrick. Cast members are Dave McEwen, Marilyn Yocum, Jim Snyder, Helen Anne Ellis, Gene Molnar, Bill Krauss, Mary Hunter, Tom Davis, Jim Shea, and Roberta Wolfer. Assisting Miss Merrick is Judy Beers. Technical director is Howard Baker.

"Sham," directed by Ron O'Leary, includes Gene Bowman, Janet Wheeler, Joe Larkins, and Jac Carrick as cast members. Assistant director Pat Flannery and technical director Wanda Chynoweth are aiding in the production. Other crew members are Ginny Johnson, Donna White and Mel Golland.

The last play on the bill, "A Marriage Proposal," is directed by Dale Nedelco. Cast includes Ron Geiser, Charles Knickerbocker, and Donna White. Crew is composed of Barbara Waters and Mary Roehrs.

Make up for all four plays will be done by Judy Lisy, while Jo Schommer is in charge of sound. Ushers are members of Workshop Players.

Candidates Interviewed For Posts On Boards

By LARRY SCHMITH

Who will be the new committee board chairmen and members for the forthcoming year? This is the big problem now confronting the Student Leadership and Service Board.

The board has been interviewing candidates for the past month to find the best qualified people to fill the many committee posts.

Following each group of interviews, a discussion is held concerning the candidates. As many as 15 students are interviewed each assigned day.

Students are asked questions concerning their past, present, and future activities and jobs. They also are questioned on why they chose to participate on this committee and in this field. The board also listens to the students' opinions on the written policy of the committee and answers any questions the candidates may have.

Students are selected on their grades, which must be 2.5 or above, past campus and board participation, interest, ideas, and creativeness. The Leadership Board attempts to strike a balance in choosing the committee members, both in creativeness and grade level.

Louis Moorhead, Student Body vice-president and chairman of this board, stated that "students truly select themselves; all we do is write their names down."

The list of qualified students the board has is compiled in three major ways. Names may be submitted by any student who feels that someone he knows would do a good job on a student committee. The Board also compiles a list of students of their own acquaintance and from the files of the Registrar. The third method is that of the student himself expressing a desire to participate in some form of the government.

By the second week in May, the interviews will be completed, and the Board will send its five selections for each committee to the Student Council for its approval. From those approved, the Student Body President will pick

28 Men Signed Pledge Not To Trim Tresses

Long, curly hair for men is the latest style on the Bowling Green campus. Twenty-eight men recently signed a pledge that they would not cut their hair from the date of casting until after the final performance of "Cyrano de Bergerac." Most of the actors are also growing beards so they will not have to put on a fake beard for the performances.

Since in 1640 in France the men wore long, curly hair and beards, Dr. Donald C. Kleckner, director of the play, decided his cast should be authentic and cleared the hair-raising project with the Dean of Students, Dr. Elden T. Smith. Those men who cannot grow sufficient hair in the time available will be provided with long, curled wigs.

Combined Choral Groups Will Give Closing Concert Sunday In Union

AKO, Gamma Phi, PiKA Victors At Greek Week's Olympic Night

By JIM ZAK

Sigma Chi To Hold Annual Derby Day

A parade with all the fraternities and sororities on campus participating, will highlight Sigma Chi Derby Day, May 2. A trophy will be awarded to the group showing the most imagination and spirit in the parade.

During the day, 16 contests will be held with trophies being awarded to the groups with the most total points. There will be seven contests for the men, seven contests for the women, and one mystery event each for men and women. Besides a first place trophy, there will also be awards given for second and third place positions.

After two hours of competition Wednesday night, the combined team of Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Alpha Kappa Omega was declared victor of the annual Olympic Night, which was held on the intramural field behind the Fine Arts Bldg.

An estimated 1,000 students turned out to watch the combined sorority and fraternity teams compete in a walking race, 50-yard dash, relay race, broad jump, and softball throw.

The newly devised system of combining the sororities and fraternities into teams of three proved to be a successful one and made the event more interesting. The final outcome was not clear cut until the last event was run.

Final tabulations showed the Gamma Phi Beta-Pi Kappa Alpha-Alpha Kappa Omega team had scored a total of 42 points. Close behind, in second place, was the Alpha Chi Omega-Sigma Phi Epsilon-Alpha Tau Omega team, with 37 points.

Other team places and total points were Delta Zeta, Delta Gamma, and Sigma Chi in third with 32 points; Alpha Phi, Sigma Nu, and Phi Kappa Tau in fourth with 30 points; Kappa Sigma, Delta Upsilon, and Alpha Xi Delta along with Alpha Gamma Delta, Zeta Beta Tau, and Tau Kappa Epsilon tied for fifth with 29 points.

Chi Omega, Phi Mu, and Theta Chi in seventh with 27 points; Alpha Delta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Phi Kappa Psi in eighth with 21 points; and Kappa Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Delta Tau Delta in ninth with 10 points.

Greek Week Drawing To Close; Dance, Carnival End Festivities

This week end will mark the close of the 1959 Greek Week. Events yet to be held include the annual Greek Week Carnival and the Greek Week Dance, while tomorrow the combined pledge classes will work on the annual pledge project. This year, the project is scraping and painting the Commons Dining Hall and working on the grounds of the Wood County Hospital.

Concluding the Week will be the dance, featuring Buddy Morrow's Orchestra, in the Grand Ballroom of the Union from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. tomorrow. Featured with the "Night Train" orchestra will be vocalist Jane Taylor.

Each booth will give prizes to winning contestants in accordance with the booth's theme. Booths will be judged and a trophy will be awarded to the sorority and fraternity sponsoring the winning booth. Standards for judging include originality, general appearance, quality of construction, design, neatness, follow-through of theme, popularity with crowd, handling of the crowd, and prize originality.

Each booth will also have a "barker," who will encourage the crowd to participate in the booth's activity. An individual trophy will go to the "barker" judged to be the best. Several members of the faculty and administration will judge the booths and "barkers."

Greek Week 1959 opened Saturday, with the bringing of the torch from the University of Toledo to the campus. That night, at the Interfraternity Council Sing, Linda Gee and Norman Numanaker were named as the Outstanding Greek Woman and Outstanding Greek Man for 1959. Theta Chi won first place honors in the Sing, with Phi Kappa Tau and Sigma Chi taking second and third places, respectively.

Sunday, an innovation of Greek Week, the Discussion Hour, was held in the Union. National representatives of the fraternities and sororities, along with student representatives of each group and members of the University's faculty and administration, attended a dinner and then discussed problems facing Greeks on the local level. This event was a direct tie-in with the Week's theme, "A Light Unto Unity."

Unity was stressed again last night, when sororities and fraternities met together for the first combined Panhellenic-IFC Banquet in Greek Week history. Dr. Francis Hughes, national president of Delta Tau Delta, was the speaker.

BURNHAM

director of choral activities. Soloists will be Warren Allen, associate professor of music; Miss Woodall; Brenda Boyce, a student alto; and Wilson. Terry Woodings, senior music student, will provide organ accompaniment.

ALLEN

Prof. Burnham will direct both works. The concert is free to the public.

Miss Woodall has studied voice in the United States and abroad with such distinguished teachers as Marjorie Lawrence in New Orleans and Miguel Bernac in Paris. She was graduated from Newcomb College of Tulane University in 1958, where she was an assistant to Prof. Burnham, then director of choral activities of Tulane.

Prof. Burnham sketched the "Cantata of Peace" in the spring of 1957 and completed it in its present form in July of that year. The text, also written by him, utilizes as its focal point elements from the Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish faiths, as well as certain mystic elements found in the poetry of the Middle Ages.

The work comprises a wide tonal range and expression in the vocal and instrumental media. This will mark the first time this composition has been performed by a choral group in this area. The Canata's first performance took place at the New Orleans First Presbyterian Church.

Schubert's "Mass in G" was composed in 1815, when he was only 18 years old. Since that time, "Mass in G" has become one of the best loved and most performed of the six Masses which he composed. Prof. Burnham stated that this is typical "Missa Brevis" or short Mass of early nineteenth century Vienna.

BE Entrance Tests Given On Campus

Over 200 high school students will be here today and tomorrow to take National Business Entrance Tests, according to Dr. Mearl R. Guthrie, chairman of the business education department.

The NBE tests are achievement tests measuring marketable productivity in one or more of five basic office jobs: bookkeeping, general office clerical, machine calculation, stenography, and type-writing.

The business education rooms in the Practical Arts Bldg. will be used, with faculty and members of Quill Type and Pi Omega Pi assisting with the registration and administration of the tests.

Editorially Speaking

College Costs And Students' Cash

Just as this country's satellites and missiles are being projected upwards into space by the various branches of the armed services, the costs of attending the nation's colleges are rising and will continue to rise. This is no prediction, but fact, based on economic necessity and decided by legislators and college administrators.

Upon consulting the recently issued 1959-60 Bulletin of the University, it is learned that Bowling Green offers no exception to the national trend. Although the University has no tuition fee, a full-time student will pay a Registration Fee of $100 and an Incidental Fee of $62.50 per semester next year. The Incidental Fee has not been increased, but the Registration Fee is $25 more than it was this year. The Nonresident Fee has also been increased from $250 per year to $300, and room and board charges per semester have been increased from $340 to $350.

Though the total of these figures is $1,025 per year, which is no small sum, the student is still paying only a little part of the cost of a year's education at Bowling Green.

State funds pay about two-thirds of the actual cost of classroom instruction. The student's money is used primarily for board and room and for various student services provided by the University, because Ohio's General Assembly does not appropriate funds for either board and room or student services.

The appropriations from the state have not matched the ever-increasing costs of classroom instruction, however. There is thus only one solution for the University's administrators, and that is to increase the amount of money that students must pay for their education. Mounting enrollment figures mean rising costs as well as mounting revenue.

Whatever the reason for the rising costs, we can only hope that the number of capable young persons who will be unable to afford a college education in future years will be very small. Loan funds will have to be increased and other measures taken to see that few deserving an education will be turned away because of financial reasons. The nation will suffer if education is priced beyond the reach of many.

Foundation Offers Jobs To Students In Foreign Lands

More job opportunities in Europe this summer . . . Work this summer in the forests of Germany, on construction in Portugal, on farms in Germany, Sweden and Denmark, in a kibbutz in Israel, or road construction in Norway.

American-European Student Foundation (a nonprofit organization) is offering these jobs to students in Germany, Scandinavia, England, Austria, Switzerland, France, Italy, and Spain. The jobs consist of forestry work, child care work (females only), farm work, hotel work (limited number available), construction work, and some other more qualified jobs requiring more specialized training.

The purpose of this program is to afford the student an opportunity to get into real living contact with people and customs of Europe. In return for his or her work, the student will receive his or her room and board, plus a wage. However, students should keep in mind that they will be working on the European economy and wages will naturally be scaled accordingly. The working conditions (hours, safety, regulations, legal protection, work permits) will be strictly controlled by the labor ministries of the countries involved.

For students interested in Denmark, the International Student Centre Hald, Viborg, Denmark, will be open this summer to American university students as well as European students.

For further information on the placement services and travel arrangements, write American-European Student Foundation, P.O. Box 34712, Vaduz, Liechtenstein, Switzerland.

Placement Office Helps Many Students, Alumni

By MARTA MERCER

What are the functions of the Placement Office? This question probably has crossed the students' minds many times, but with the help of Jame C. Galloway, placement officer, it can easily be answered.

The purposes of the office is to serve seniors, primarily for employment after graduation. Counseling for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, however, is also available to help them decide their college curriculum with relation to career possibilities.

Not only can seniors and undergraduates use the placement service, but any alumnus who is just out of the armed services or who desires to change his job or needs help may have it without charge.

Many mistakes in choosing a major field could be prevented if students would consult him about business opportunities first, Galloway said.

A coordinating agency between industry, school, and the student, the office keeps in contact with employers in various fields to help make job arrangements. In addition, a list of all job vacancies is mailed to dormitories and to all persons registered with the office.

In helping a student decide on a particular job, several factors are taken into consideration, including the size of the company, geographical location, salary, and opportunities for advancement. Company literature also is available in the office, Galloway added.

A student, to use the service, is expected to fill out the necessary personal information, professional preparation, special abilities and membership in organizations, subjects and grades, and recommendations.

Because employers frequently come to the campus to interview students, the Placement Service enables students to have more opportunities in being interviewed than if they had to contact the employers themselves.

Debate Tourney Offers Training

More than 100 debaters representing 13 Ohio colleges participated in the largest State Novice Debate Tournament in recent history last week end, according to Dr. Raymond Yeager, assistant professor of speech.

The purpose of the tournament, he said, was to give beginning debate students experience and training to qualify them for varsity positions.

Wittenberg College went undefeated in tournament competition by winning all eight rounds of debate, thus copping first place honors. Bowling Green, led by Lee Hoeffle and Ralph Stuckman, debating the affirmative, won three out of four rounds.

Also participating in the tournament for BG were Gene Wilson, David Riggs, Daniel Mauer, Ann Peeler, John Bell, Sam Mehrley, Robert Selander, Gregory Gilmore, John Cook, Keith Trowbridge, Jim Fluke, William Geary, Ronald Sherer, Richard Bradley, Jim Zak, Jim Petlow, Mary Hunter and Carolyn Bradley.

Would you call this fair play?

Number 5 has to take the high hurdles—number 3 gets by with the low. Would you call this a fair race?

Hardly—but you and most people face that same kind of unfairness every day as far as your taxes are concerned. Here's how:

Part of every dollar you pay for electricity goes for taxes. But a strange twist in federal laws exempts several million American families and businesses from paying all the taxes in their electric bills that you pay in yours. These are the people who get their electricity from federal government electric systems. Like runner number 3, they enjoy lower tax hurdles while you strain over the high ones.

This kind of tax favoritism is a far cry from American standards of fair play. That's why we believe it should be made widely known and given critical study.

Stellar's Crew Faces Bobcats

The Bowling Green Falcons will send Wade Diefenthaler against the Ohio University Bobcats and Ralph Nuzum this afternoon at Athens as the Falcons try to improve on their 1-3 conference record. The Bobcats will be trying to protect their perfect 2-0 slate.

OU, considered an MAC title threat, has rolled up a team batting average of around .300, in defeating North Carolina State, Virginia Tech., Morehead State, Notre Dame and Dayton outside the MAC, and in their two conference games they smashed Marshall 11-5, and 23-9.

The Bobcats feature one of the best pitching staffs in the MAC, headed by veterans Nuzum, who has a 3-0 mark; Bob Russell who has split even in two games; and southpaw Micky Urban, who has also won three without a defeat.

Arman O'Neal, the club's leading hitter at .379, will be behind the plate for OU, with Vince Scales at first, Myron Stallsmith at the keystone, Gary Wade at short, and All-American Lamar Jacobs at third. The outfield will be made up of Bruce Johnson, Rudy Kalfas, and Russell who handles the outfield chores when he is not on the mound.

Other members of the Bobcat's three-hundred-club, include Wade at .357, Stallsmith at .344, and Johnson at .321. Jacobs, who was selected on the NCAA All-American team last year and hit .467 in 21 games has started slow at .286. This may be traced to the fact that he is playing a new position this season. He had to take over at third when regular shortstop Bob Mauer broke his ankle in the Morehead game, and Wade moved over from third to fill the vacant spot.

The Falcons, who were held to eight hits and two runs in the Western Michigan series, are in the grips of a terrible slump. Dick Kuzma with seven safeties in 17 trips to the plate for a .412 average and Ron Blackledge with six for 19 for .316 are the only regulars hitting over .250.

The pitching department has also been somewhat of a sore spot for Coach Warren Stellar's crew. Veteran Diefenthaler has posted a 1-1 mark as he turned back Kent State in the season opener, but was blasted by the Western Michigan Broncos last Friday. Curveballing Tom Lyons pitched good ball at Kent, but was racked for four runs by the Broncos on Saturday.

Coach Stellar has expressed concern over the wildness of his pitchers, but praised the work of sophomore right-hander Dave Hornick, who has given up only two runs in four appearances, including five innings of shut-out ball against Detroit Tech.

Intramurals

The co-ed volleyball tournament held its playoffs yesterday.

Four teams led the sorority-fraternity active league with three wins each. They are Sigma Phi Epsilon-Phi Mu, Theta Chi-Chi Omega, Sigma Nu-Gamma Phi Beta, and Alpha Tau Omega-Alpha Chi Omega.

In the pledge league, three teams led with three wins each. They are Alpha Tau Omega-Alpha Chi Omega, Theta Chi-Alpha Xi Delta, and Tau Kappa Epsilon-Alpha Gamma Delta.

Twelve teams are participating in women's softball intramural practice, stated Miss Dorothy Luedtke, director of women's intramural athletics.

Practice sessions, which were extended due to conflicting activities, ended this week and tournament play will begin Tuesday.

Intramurals will be featuring a men's all-campus archery tournament and the annual fraternity and independent track meet, next week.

Entries for the bow and arrow tournament are due Tuesday, play commencing May 8 and continuing on May 15 if needed.

The preliminary date for the track meet is Thursday and finals will be held May 7.

The women's class basketball tournament ended April 15, with a playoff between the winning team from each league. The Jumpin' Juniors from the Tuesday-Thursday league were declared tournament champs as they beat the Heterogenous Hoopsters by a score of 23-18.

SOME OF THE 67 football players who are working out in preparation for the annual intra-squad game, which will be held Wednesday, April 29, at 8 p.m. Coach Perry's crew has been hard hit by injuries, but most of the players are now starting to round into shape.

Squad Game April 29 To End Grid Practice

By WALTER JOHNS

Injuries have slowed down progress in the spring workouts for the Bowling Green Falcon grid squad. Coach Perry and his crew are coming into the home stretch of the workouts as they prepare for the grand finale, the annual intra-squad game, which will be held Wednesday, April 29, at 8 p.m. in the Stadium, with no admission charge.

Perry, beginning his fifth year as BG mentor, expressed deep concern about the many injuries which have hit the club. Besides this, six of the top returning lettermen are participating in spring sports, thus missing the sessions.

Bob Colburn, the team's top signal caller last season, is playing tennis for Coach Robert Keefe. Ron Blackledge and Dave Cassel, end and halfback respectively, are toiling for Coach Warren Stellar's baseball squad. Bernie Casey and Bob Reublin, two top sophomore backs, are on the track team, along with Clarence Mason, 6-1 187-pound end.

At this point of the training sessions, Perry, who has compiled a 28-44 record here, pointed out that the weak spots for the Falcons will be guard, center, and possibly the halfback and tackle spots.

The center position is untried, after the loss of the top three men, Bob Morrill, Jim Dreher, and John Valentine. Ray Kwiatkowski and Ron Williams are the two top candidates at present. Kwiatkowski is best on defense and getting better all around, according to the BG coach. Williams is best on offense but weak on defense.

Perry has two tough and rugged guards in Dan Roberts and Jerry Colaner, but following these men are players who lack experience. Next in line for the guard slot is a freshman, Butch Ward, who could blossom into a real regular at 220 lbs. Others in contention are Dave Radlinski, Joe Grant, Joe Spilewski, Ron Isgro, and Bob Reynolds.

"We've got three good Mid-American tackles in Bob Zimpfer, Bob Bird, and Ralph White, but we must get added support from our other men. Zimpfer was All-Ohio and All-MAC last year and should repeat this season, barring any injuries. Injuries could really hurt us," said Coach Perry.

Other contenders are Jerry Croft and Fred Elliott, two tough frosh prospects. Also on the team are Karl Anderson, Lloyd Dempsey, and Jay Loescher, all freshmen.

The end position seems to be the strongest spot on the team, with good depth and excellent quality. Heading the list are Jerry Roberts, second team All-MAC, and Tom Colaner, All-Ohio and All-MAC, along with Dick Newsome, Larry Smith, and Ed Travis, three frosh prospects. Converted from halfback to end, Al Hoover is doing a good job. One of the roughest men on the team is Don Meister, who is going to be playing somewhere, according to Perry. Another fine prospect is Burt Kennedy.

"At halfback, we have more depth than in past years, but inexperience could hurt us, unless we get top performances from such men as Bernie Casey, Chuck Comer, Bobby Young, and Albert Junior. This spot definitely worries me and I think it will be one of our weak spots," explained the Falcon coach.

Junior seems to be the top man now, at least until the fall, when Casey and the others will be back.

He has speed and agility, and was a top halfback for the frosh last season.

Another fine runner is Joe Newshaum, freshman, who is improved as much as anyone, but needs to polish up on his blocking.

"Fullback is one of our better set spots. It is the best, both quality and quantity wise, since I have been here," stated Coach Perry.

There are three hard running, solid fullbacks fighting for the starting position. Jerry Dianiska, regular last season, heads the list, followed by Ron Worstell, who played a terrific game against Miami, and Roger Klicman.

The quarterback slot will be pretty well set with Bob Colburn back for another fine year. Also to add experience, depth, and quality are Jay Hershey, Dan McClain, and Jack Harbaugh. Perry also pointed out that there are a couple of other fine signal-callers on the squad. They are Arch Tunnell, frosh quarterback last season, and Jim Bradshaw, another frosh.

The Falcons lost 16 lettermen and will have 12 back, including eight seniors and four juniors. At end, Perry has four men back; tackle, two lettermen; guard, two; and halfback, two; but only one at quarterback and fullback, with none at center.

"I am pretty well satisfied with the sessions, although I wish we did not have so many injuries. However, the boys have put in a lot of individual effort and have worked hard," summed up Perry.

BG Racketmen Battle Denison

Coach Robert Keefe's racketmen will take to the court at Granville tomorrow against Denison University after blanking Detroit Wednesday.

The Falcon netters started the season by turning back Bradley 4-2, and crushing Dayton 9-0, but the lack of depth and experience in the lower three singles brackets have cost them an 8-1 loss at Miami, and a 4-5 defeat by Eastern Michigan.

Junior lettermen Bob Colburn holds down the leading spot on the squad, as the Dayton Fairmont star has posted a perfect record in five outings. Close behind Colburn are Dick Abele and Doug Ganim, with 4-1 marks.

Bulletin . . .

BG Track team lost to Western Michigan, 74-53, Wednesday, as Bernie Casey won the two hurdle events and the 100-yard dash and Bob Ramlow set a new varsity record of 13 feet six and one quarter inches in the pole vault.

Cindermen Seek Victory At Kent

Bowling Green's track team takes to the road tomorrow to meet the Golden Flashes at Kent. The Falcons should have little trouble in coming up with a win, as Kent is somewhat weak this year.

Bernie Casey will lead the attack for the Falcons in the 100-yard dash and both hurdle events. Casey still remains undefeated in these three events in dual competition this season.

The Falcon should have little trouble capturing both the pole vault and the broad jump events. In the vaulting pits for BG will be Ken Campbell, Ken Miller, and Bob Ramlow. Bob DeWulf, Clint Conner, Campbell, and Miller will be sharing the broad jumping honors.

Ernie Malzahn will be the man to watch in the 220-yard dash and should come in second to Casey in the high and low hurdles.

Kent State won their first meet of the season by downing John Carroll, but were completely thrashed by Western Michigan, 109-38, and Central State by the margin of 103-44.

Area High Schools Sending Delegates To BG Tomorrow

The twentieth annual Northwest Ohio High School Sports Day will be held on campus tomorrow and is sponsored by the women's health and physical education department.

More than 130 girls from 15 high schools will compete in such activities as volleyball, bowling, shuffleboard, horse shoes, table tennis, swimming, and dance, according to Jan Fenwick, general chairman of the event.

Twenty-five girls will participate in a dance clinic to be held in conjunction with the Sports Day. The clinic is under the direction of Miss Mary E. Whitney, assistant professor in the department, who is also director of the inter-school competition in the various sports that will be held throughout the day.

Following lunch, physical education majors will give demonstrations of tumbling, modern dance, and recreational games. To round out the day's activities, Swan Club will provide a demonstration of synchronized swimming.

Committee chairmen in charge of the various activities during the day are Jane Walter, Peg Vines, Mary Ellen Leuty, Martha Meyer, Celia Giganti, Sue Robbins, Janice Walker, Muriel Morse, Mary Jo Freshley, and Barbara Lovett. Miss Dorothy Luedtke, intramural director, is faculty chairman of the Sports Day.

Golfers Looking For MAC Win

The Falcon golf team will be on the road this week end, as they engage Miami today and Wittenburg tomorrow. Bowling Green, against Kentucky, seems to have run out of gas momentarily, losing their last two outings. However, Coach Forrest Creason believes that his team will shake out of their slump and start scoring again.

The Redskins are two and nothing for the season as they have dumped Dayton 17-10, and Xavier 17 1/2-9 1/2. Miami has six veterans back from last year's team which won six of 11 matches and finished fifth in the Mid-American Conference.

The top two men for Miami this year are Bob Dice and Art Halmi, who both averaged under 75 last season. The other men figured to help the Redskins are Tom Taylor, Bud Brownsberger, Howie Rosley, and Don Isgrig.

Last year, when Bowling Green and Miami collided, the Redskins came out on top 15 1/2-11 1/2. This season, these two teams will meet twice before the MAC golf tournament.

The squad making the trip will be Joe Ungvary, Perry Lanning, Jim Bernicke, Wade Cass, Harold "Whitey" Warren, and Dick Tattersall.

ARCHIMEDES

makes another great discovery...

It's what's up front that counts

You can reproduce the experiment. It's easy as π . (Yes, you can do it in the bathtub.) Assuming that you have first visited your friendly tobacconist, simply light your first Winston and smoke it. Reasoning backwards, the discovery proceeds as follows: first, you will notice a delightful flavor, in the class of fresh coffee or of bread baking. Obviously, such flavor cannot come from the filter. Therefore, it's what's up front that counts: Winston's Filter-Blend. The tobaccos are selected for flavor and mildness, then specially processed for filter smoking. This extra step is the real difference between Winston and all other filter cigarettes. Besides, it's why Winston is America's best-selling filter cigarette.

"Eureka! Winston tastes good... like a cigarette should!"

Off The Cuff

Expecting That Return-Invitation? Learn To Pack Your Suitcase!

When warm weather comes, some men on campus will probably be planning big weekends—perhaps at a neighboring college. Maybe even a trip home has appeal.

Transportation may be your first consideration, though lack of same has never been known to dull the hopes eternal. With credit cards and "go now, pay later" plans, it's even possible to travel without funds—though the day of reckoning comes eventually.

The second problem is packing: what to take, and how to take it.

The comb-and-toothbrush traveller may never have to worry about paying for excess baggage, but he isn't going to stack up too well against well-groomed competition. There's no doubt about it: girls expect men to dress correctly, even if they've been braving a storm on a camping trip. This is known as womanly pride in her favorite man.

Correct dressing on a week end requires taking the right clothes, and packing them correctly. Here, from the Arrow Shirt Clinic, are a few packing tips:

Plan on a pair of socks and a clean shirt for each day of your visit. Best are the new wash and wear duds: these shirts, made of a Dacron and cotton blend, can be hand washed after you come back to your room, and will drip-dry overnight.

With a wash and wear shirt, there's no excuse for turning up the second day in wrinkles or with lipstick on your collar.

By the way, you can get button-down, tab, or regular collar styles in stripes, colors or white.

For casual occasions, try a wash 'n' wear sports shirt as well, in a handsome plaid or subtle design. If you plan to extend your stay longer than a day or two—it's possible—you will need a change of slacks and jacket. Play it smart: pick your attire so the parts can be interchanged. Just a change of ties is not enough camouflage.

When packing your suit, don't roll unless it is absolutely necessary. Slacks or trousers are easiest. Close the zipper and be sure the pockets are empty. Then fold in half lengthwise, as though you were going to hang them up, matching the cuffs evenly. Fold them in half, bringing the waistband down to the cuffs, and fold in half again. This makes a neat package.

Jackets are not as hard as they seem. Hold the jacket in front of you, and put your hands in the armholes. Bring the sleeves together, and turn the coat inside out. Smooth the sleeves and lapel; then fold the coat in half.

Shirts are folded just as they do in the laundry. Button and lay on its front. Fold the sides at the quarter marks, and bring the sleeve down. Do the same on the other side, and fold in half.

You'll find that a little extra care in packing will pay off in big return-invitation dividends. After all, you're on display when you're visiting, and it's important to your date to be able to show off a gent who is correctly dressed, well-groomed, and generally a credit to her good taste.
